Irrigation Association of New Jersey

Founded in 1974, the Irrigation Association of New Jersey is a voluntary non-profit organization formed to:

- Promote the proper use and design of irrigation systems.
- Promote water conservation.
- Collect and disseminate information of concern to its members, the public and associated industries.
- Keep the public, private institutions and governmental agencies abreast of the economic impact and concerns of its members.
- Conduct education programs.

Featured Programs:

- Educational Seminars
- Member Meetings
- Social Functions
- Cooperative Discount Program
- Insurance Programs
- Industry Newsletter
- IANJ Scholarship Fund - IANJ members and their employees will be eligible for scholarships for college-age students.
- IPAC - IANJ supports the political voice of the irrigation industry

Certification of Contractors

New Jersey Statute (C.45:5AA-01 to 11) requires that after December 31, 1996, all irrigation contractors must be tested and certified by the Department of Environmental Protection.

The Licensing Contractors Examining Board of NJ requires an irrigation contractor submit a business permit application at no charge. Those IANJ members who have been assigned a business permit number are so noted with their numbers under their certification number in the directory.
